Independent Auditors' Report

The Board of Directors
The Bush Foundation:

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of The Bush Foundation (the Foundation) as of December 31, 2006 and the related statement of activities and cash flows for the thirteen months ended December 31, 2006. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Foundation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Foundation's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Foundation as of December 31, 2006 and the change in its net assets and its cash flows for the thirteen months ended December 31, 2006 in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Notes to Financial Statements

(1) Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Organization

The Bush Foundation (the Foundation) is an exempt private foundation that provides grant support in the areas of education, humanities and the arts, human services and ecological health to nonprofit organizations in Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, as well as two non-regional grant programs. In addition, the Foundation awards individual fellowship grants in the fields of leadership, art and medicine to qualified applicants from the three-state region and western Wisconsin.

(b) Change in Fiscal Year

The Foundation elected to change its fiscal year from November 30 to December 31, effective December 31, 2006. Accordingly, the Foundation's statement of financial position reflects balances as of December 31, 2006. The Foundation's statement of activities and statement of cash flows reflect thirteen months of activity from December 1, 2005 through December 31, 2006.

(c) Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

(d) Tax-Exempt Status

The Foundation is exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (the Code) and is a private foundation as defined in Section 509(a) of the Code. The Foundation is subject to applicable state and federal unrelated business income tax and federal excise tax. A provision for unrelated business income tax and federal excise tax has been made and is included in the financial statements.

(e) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires the Foundation to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and revenues and expenses during the year. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(f) Cash Equivalents

The Foundation considers all interest-bearing deposits and short-term investments purchased with maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

(g) Investments

Investments in securities that are traded on national or international securities exchanges are carried at fair value, based upon quoted market prices provided by external investment managers and the Foundation's custodian.

Fair values for investments held in alternative structures including limited partnerships, hedge funds, and limited liability corporations are estimated by the respective investment managers if quoted market values are not readily determinable. The estimated values as determined by the general partners and fund managers may differ from the values that would have been used had ready markets for the investments existed and the differences could be significantly higher or lower for any specific holding.

(h) Derivative Financial Instruments

The Foundation invests in various stock indices, fixed-income and foreign currency derivatives. The Foundation uses derivatives with the objectives of reducing portfolio risk and/or lowering investment costs. Derivative uses include managing the duration of the fixed-income portfolio, gaining investment exposure to specific markets and maintaining investment policy allocation. Derivative instruments are measured at fair value and reported in the statement of financial position. Changes in the fair value are reported in the statement of activities.

The Foundation uses listed options contracts to reduce return volatility and enhance portfolio yield of designated equity holdings (the Option Overlay Program). The Option Overlay Program focuses on the Foundation's exposure to large-cap U.S. equity holdings and consists of four separate position phases. Each phase has a term of one year, covers approximately one quarter of the Foundation's large-cap U.S. equity exposure, and has an initial price cap target 15% above the quarter-end S&P index level.

The Foundation, in conjunction with its investment manager, has established risk management policies and procedures for the Option Overlay Program which are set forth in the Option Overlay Policy Statement executed between the Foundation and the investment manager. In addition, the Foundation, the investment manager and its investment advisor apply portfolio management and monitoring techniques to monitor the Foundation's use of derivative instruments under the Option Overlay Program.

(i) Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying value of dividend and interest receivable, receivable and payable for securities with settlements pending, accounts payable and accrued and other liabilities are reasonable estimates of their fair value due to the short-term nature of these financial instruments. Investments are stated at fair value. Grants payable have been stated at fair value by discounting multiyear grants.

(j) Grant Appropriations

Grants are recorded as expense when approved by the Foundation's board of directors, except when the grants are conditional as defined by requirements of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 116, Accounting for Contributions Received and Contributions Made. Cancellations of grants occur principally when the grantees do not meet the grant terms. Cancellations were $1,053 in 2006.

(k) Classification of Expenses

Grants and expenses associated with the Foundation's direct charitable activities are considered to be program expenses, while all other expenses of the Foundation are considered to be management and general expenses.

(2) Futures Contracts

The Foundation uses financial futures contracts to adjust the relative exposure to fixed income and equity markets. The notional amount of these contracts at December 31, 2006 was $43,310. Realized and unrealized gains and losses related to these contracts are recorded when they occur. These contracts settle daily; therefore, the average fair value of these contracts is established daily and the contract is marked to market. Net trading gains of $5,164 were recognized in 2006. The futures contracts are exchange-traded with counterparties with good credit standing.

(3) Securities Lending Transactions

Under a securities lending agreement, the Foundation has authorized the lending agent to manage and administer a securities lending program. The lending agent has the responsibility for negotiating the terms of each loan and for collecting the required collateral, which must be in the amount of 102% in the case of securities of U.S. issuers and 105% in the case of securities of non-U.S. issuers of the market value of any securities loaned, including any accrued interest. Collateral was invested in a short-term investment trust and was due to the investment borrower in accordance with the terms of the collateral agreement. As of December 31, 2006, the securities lending program was temporarily suspended.

(4) Federal Excise Taxes and Distribution Requirements

Federal Excise Taxes – The Foundation is subject to a 2% excise tax on its taxable investment income, which principally includes income from investments plus net realized capital gains (net capital losses, however, are not deductible). Tax on net investment income is reduced from 2% to 1% for any taxable year in which the Foundation's qualifying distributions meet certain requirements prescribed by Section 4940(e) of the Code.

The Foundation did not meet these requirements in 2006. Accordingly, the 2006 federal excise tax expense is based upon the 2% tax rate. Deferred federal excise taxes are based on the 2% tax rate and arise from unrealized appreciation in the market value of investments, as well as from differences in the recognition of income from certain investments. The deferred tax rate of 2% is being used because the Foundation expects the deferred tax liability will be settled at 2%, as the Foundation is not certain it will meet the reduced tax rate requirements prescribed by Section 4940(e) of the Code in the near future.

Distribution Requirements – The Foundation is subject to the distribution requirements of the Code. Accordingly, within one year after the end of each fiscal year, it must distribute 5% of the average market value of its assets as defined in the Code. The Foundation has complied with distribution requirements through December 31, 2006.

(5) Investment and Administrative Expenses

The classification of expenses between investment and administrative (grant-related) activities is determined by either specific identification of the expense or by an allocation based on management estimates. The classifications for 2006 are as follows:

	Investment	Administrative	Total
Salaries and staff benefits	$ 474	2,117	2,591
Investment management	3,396	—	3,396
Program management	—	840	840
Consulting fees	48	696	744
Other administrative expenses	207	1,019	1,226
	$ 4,125	4,672	8,797

(6) Pension Plan

The Foundation has a defined contribution pension plan whereby individual annuity contracts with Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association of America and College Retirement Equities Fund are purchased for all qualified employees. The amount of the contribution is equal to 10% of the employee's salary up to the Social Security income limit and then 15% of the employee's salary up to a maximum salary of $220. The expense of the plan for 2006 was $201.

(7) Grants Payable

The following table provides the activity within the unpaid grants account:

Unpaid grants at beginning of year	$ 23,665
Grants appropriated, net of cancellations	37,442
Grants paid	(40,242)
Refunds of previous years' grants	103
Unpaid grants at end of year	$ 20,968

Grants payable in more than one year are stated at fair value. Fair value is determined as the present value of estimated future cash flows using discount rates ranging from 2.5% to 5%. The following is a summary of grants authorized and payable at December 31:

To be paid in less than one year	$ 15,236
To be paid in one to five years	6,652
	21,888
Discount	(920)
	$ 20,968

(8) Commitments

As of December 31, 2006, the Foundation is committed to invest approximately $56,000 in certain venture capital and real estate investments.
